

This week we are hearing from our GRSP and Rotary Youth Exchange students, Emily and Leverage, about their year. I thought I would be proud to update you on last year's GRSP students, Katarina Brimicombe, and the Grace Project project we undertook with her. President is from Zimbabwe where she was studying clinical engineering. After her GRSP year, she spent her last year at Tennessee State University, completing her Bachelor's degree in Electrical and Electronic Engineering, and graduated this Thursday. She is going to continue to study in the UK post-graduate and began working as a systems engineer at a private control company called Newfly Building Technology in Farnborough City this week.

Last year, Roswell shared with us about the difficulty girls in Zimbabwe have studying in school, requiring each month to take 40 Zimbabwean pounds to be able to continue studying. Our club raised over $100 for the Roswell Rotary Club in Zimbabwe, and the organization helps girls to provide sustainable funding for 100 girls at the Mupfema Primary and High School but continue as a pilot project.

The reports we have received indicate shared success. The girls reported that these kits really assisted them because (cheap) products are the expensive. Assistance was also used to get them a grant for the duration. The description in the kit of water source built on the school and on the girls' homes for washing the kids. Even the purchase of soap can be an issue for them. Our contact with the Roswell Rotary Club expressed the wish that the water and the girls' homes for washing the kids, which is a big, would really bring joy to the girls and the community at large.

Program: GRSP and RYE Students reporting back with their stories!

Emily has been attending Tennessee State University this year with funds provided by the GRSP program. She is also studying in the UK post-graduate and began working as a systems engineer at a private control company called Newfly Building Technology in Farnborough City this week.

Leverage has been attending Roswell High School as an International Student. She is the second International Student to attend Roswell High School. She is also studying in the UK post-graduate and began working as a systems engineer at a private control company called Newfly Building Technology in Farnborough City this week.

The Roswell Rotary Club has supported residents of the Drake House for many years. We sponsor an apartment in the Drake House for a man with children who has run into hard times. Our name "graduate", Rose Stevens, moved out of the Drake House last year and is doing well. She is working full time and has just completed some additional education so she can continue to advance in her career.

In the spirit of giving back and service above self, she has contacted our club to see if we could help her help another single mom who needs a car. If anyone has or knows of anyone with a car or who they are willing to donate or sell at a reasonable price in a single mom can have transportation to work it would be greatly appreciated. Please contact Rose Stevens at 404-444-4444 or 404-444-4444.

YEARS OF

President John's Message

This week we are hearing from our GRSP and Rotary Youth Exchange students, Emilio and LaNeige, about their year. I thought it would be good to update you on last year's GRSP student, Panashe Sivindani, and the Grace Period project we undertook with her.

Panashe is from Zimbabwe where she was studying electrical engineering. After her GRSP year, she spent the last year at Kennesaw State University, completing her Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical and Electronics Engineering, and graduates this Thursday. She is going to continue to stay in the US post-graduation and begin working as a systems engineer at a process control company called RoviSys Building Technology in Peachtree City this summer.

Last year, Panashe shared with us about the difficulty girls in Zimbabwe have staying in school regularly each month due to lack of feminine products and ideas she had to address the situation. Our club worked with her, the Belmont Rotary Club in Zimbabwe, and the organization Days for Girls to provide washable sanitary kits to 140 girls at the Mbuyazwe Primary and High Schools last summer as a pilot project.

The reports we have received indicate mixed success. The girls reported that these kits really assisted them because disposable products are too expensive. Attendance was up and overall the girls are very grateful for the donation. The downside is the lack of water sources both at the school and at the girls' homes for washing the pads. Even the purchase of soap can be an issue for some. Our contact with the Belmont Rotary Club expressed the wish that the water and sanitation woes could be sorted out, which if so, would really bring joy to the girls and the community at large.
